Who can benefit?

Therapeutic shoes are beneficial for those who have conditions that cause pain or discomfort in the foot. They are most commonly used by those who are managing diabetes. In fact, Medicare and most insurances will cover all or partial cost of therapeutic shoes.

How can shoes help?

People with diabetes have the risk of developing complications that affect the lower limbs, such as peripheral vascular disease and neuropathy. These conditions can affect the sensation in the foot. Foot ulcers can develop in high-pressure areas when someone can no longer feel pain or discomfort. Poor fitting shoes may increase this risk. Therapeutic shoes are essential for prevention and treatment of foot ulcers. These shoes are special because they are:

- extra-depth
- wide-width
- usually include custom molded inserts
- custom fit by certified pedorthists or orthotic fitters

Medicare coverage

Requirements:

- Prescription from a qualified healthcare professional. (Can be different from below.)
- Certifying statement from physician treating for diabetes (MD or DO).
- Patient must have physician visit within six months prior to delivery of diabetic shoes.

Each calendar year:

- 1 pair of off-the-shelf depth shoes and 3 pairs of multi-density inserts
OR
- 1 pair of custom-molded shoes and 2 pairs of multi-density inserts
